

Tech Commons

The Tech Commons provides technical assistance for faculty, staff, and students and media equipment loans to the Biola community in support of curricular activities and campus life.

Services We Offer

The Biola Tech Commons is staffed by IT employees ready to assist faculty, staff, and students with their computers and software applications. In addition, the Tech Commons helps the entire Biola community with printing, copying, and using public computers in the library. We also process media equipment loans for faculty, staff, and students.
